The DIMMER VIEW

Shrinks Are Not Crime Busters

Let me re-introduce you to one of our most prolific contributors, California Senator H. L. "Bill" Richardson of Arcadia. We use a lot of Bill's material because it is timely, well-rehearsed, matches our philosophy much of the time and because he is in a position as a senator to be a force in changing some of that which is bad in state government.

And we urgently request him to get some legislative wheels moving to eliminate handling of criminals such as the one discussed in the following article. See if you agree.

He sets the scene in a small California community. It is 2 a.m. His subject is a middle aged man who is quietly slipping a thin piece of strong metal between the quarter-inch tapered bolt and the catch slot of a standard door lock. The door opens silently and in the next few hours the ingenious burglar methodically binds and murders a family of five.

Bloody fingerprints are everywhere, Richardson reported. The same fingerprints are found on a bloody kitchen knife discovered in a neighbor's yard.

Shortly thereafter, the middle-aged man is apprehended, his bloody clothes are found, and two days later a garbage man positively identifies him as running from the scene of the crime in the same clothes on the morning of the murders.

Richardson continues: "Later, other evidence accumulates making the police case conclusive. However, the iron-clad case they seem to have is not certain to be open and shut.

"Why? What can we predict for the suspect. Was he charged with five count of first degree murder, tried, convicted by the conclusive evidence against him, and under California law given the death penalty? No. Before ever having a trial to determine the suspect's guilt or innocence, another long process takes place.

"When defense council is appointed for the suspect, he immediately asks for an initial trial to determine if the accused is competent to stand trial on the murder charge. The judge then appoints two psychiatrists to examine the defendant—the taxpayers pick up the tab.

"If the doctors find our man incompetent, the odds are that his maximum length of imprisonment will be of short duration—usually less than four years. But if they find him competent, a murder trial is scheduled.

"Of course the defense pleads not guilty, but they add 'not guilty by reason of insanity. Two more psychiatrists are appointed by the court to rule on the defendant's sanity, this time as it relates to the alleged crime. Again, you know who gets the bill.

"This time if the doctors determine that during the commission of the crime the defendant suffered from 'diminished capacity'—in other words, if he didn't know what he was doing or didn't know it was wrong—the sentence will be annual psychiatric review with the possibility of release when deemed sane, or four years for manslaughter. In the case of ties, a third doctor is appointed.

"In the case of our middle-aged defendant, he was found sane at the time of the crime and is guilty of the charges.

"We have gone through a long process, but we have brought our criminal to justice, right? Not quite. Now we must have a third trial to determine sentencing for the crime, and again the sanity of the now-convicted murderer is at issue with psychiatric testimony.

"By this time the actual guilt or innocence of the accused has become incidental in the judicial process. Top priority has been given to the sanity of the individual, and the power to act has been placed firmly in the hands of the psychiatrists. It is the psychiatrists who can find the defendant innocent by reason of insanity and it is the psychiatrists who can release the accused into society because they believe him to be sane again.

"This authoritative power becomes questionable when compared to the success rate of criminal psychoanalysis. Recent research has shown that psychiatrists are more likely to be wrong about their criminal patients than right. The degree of error shown in these studies ranges from wrong in 54 percent of the cases to wrong in 100 percent of the cases." This fact comes from Dr. Jay Ziskind, licensed psychologist, attorney, and professor on both subjects at the University of Southern California.

"Ziskind is joined in his opinion by the American Psychiatric Association and the Northern California Psychiatric Society. They agree that it is impossible for psychiatrists to predict the behavior of their criminal patients. They say no one can. In other words, the California criminal justice system has placed the responsibility for our public safety in the hand of people who cannot and will not guarantee their conclusions.

"The courts have spent all that time, at taxpayers' expense, to draw the conclusion that the criminal might be okay. Isn't that like putting a gun to your head and pulling the trigger because it only might be loaded?

"Maybe it's time the California Legislature took the advice of the real experts for once, and passed a law excluding psychiatric testimony from criminal trials.

State-Fed Seminar Eyes Flood Insurance

Federal flood insurance, largely missing element in last winter's storms, will be explained by federal and state officials at a San Diego workshop May 23, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin has announced.

Less than three percent of the 3,500 Southern California structures damaged by flooding were covered by insurance, "so obviously these programs are just skimming the surface," said Van Deerlin.

The San Diego symposium will be conducted by the Federal Insurance Administration and the California Department of Water Resources at the Holiday Inn on the Embarcadero.

Participants will be drawn heavily from lending institutions, insurance companies and others with a "need to know" about the availability of the federally backed insurance, but property owners also are invited.

Participants will be charged $20 to cover expenses, with arrangements being made through the Dept. of Water Resources in Sacramento. The one-day workshops will be conducted in Los Angeles, Ventura, San Jose and Redding, in addition to San Diego—all deemed flood-prone by officials in charge.

Rules Tightened On Swap Meets

Effective June 1, San Diego county swap meets must confine their business hours to Saturdays and Sundays only, between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m., with no admittance an hour before the specified closing time.

Approved with a 4-0 vote by the San Diego County Board of Supervisors, the amendments to the County's ordinance also direct that no business will be conducted on December 25, Labor Day and Thanksgiving Day.

The County Sheriff is authorized to issue a swap meet license limiting days and hours of operation upon determining that the peace and tranquility of the residents of the surrounding community requires such limitations.

LGJH Band Wins Maytime Trophy

The public is invited to attend a 3rd grade demonstration concert presented by the trophy winning Lemon Grove Junior High School marching band, today and Tuesday, 9 p.m. in the LGJH auditorium, 7866 Lincoln st., Lemon Grove.

The band won a first place trophy for its outstanding presentation of the annual Maytime Band Review in National City on May 6, at which 50 bands from all over the state were presented.

All bands were rated on three different criteria—music score, marching and maneuvering, and showmanship—which totaled 1,000 points. In music score alone, the LGJH band received 465 out of a total of 500 points; it also obtained a perfect score for 100 of its perfect-looking green and gold uniforms. The trophy is a 'first' for the band after the last 10 years of competing.

Lemon Grove Drum Major Christian Smith was presented a first place trophy for his outstanding performance. In the 30 years that his band has competed at Maytime, he is the first drum major to be awarded a first place trophy.

The band with its 70 musicians is under the direction of Harry Weisgerber.

INSTALLATION—Dori Dial, honored Queen of Lemon Grove Bethel no. 299, Job's Daughters, will be installed Sunday in a ceremony at the Masonic Temple in Lemon Grove, 2590 Main st., at 7:30 p.m.

FREEWAY RAMP METERS—The California Department of Transportation yesterday turned on new signal lights for the on-ramps of Freeway 94. CalTrans hopes to control morning congestion by regulating the number of cars entering the freeway.

Ramp Signals in Use On Westbound Fwy 94

by Fred Ash

If you defy them, you could end up in El Cajon court trying to explain yourself.

They are on-ramp stop lights, the new traffic control system now in operation on Freeway 94.

The California Department of Transportation has been installing the lights for the past few weeks and turned them on yesterday.

There will be 24 of the lights eventually installed on Freeway 94 from downtown San Diego to the Puente drive on-ramp in La Mesa.

The new lights seek to maintain a 45 to 55 mile per hour traffic flow during the morning rush hour.

This is expected to be accomplished by the lights and "inductive loops" in the freeway lanes.

According to CalTrans District Traffic System Engineer Stuart Harvey, the loops measure the flow of on coming traffic.

"The old bars which you see in older intersections are gradually being phased out," Harvey explained. "These are being replaced with diamond shaped loops.

"When a car passes over the loops, it disturbs the magnetic field set up there and triggers the signal light on the on-ramp."

The metal loops have been cut into all lanes on the freeway, in most cases in line with the signal light on the on-ramp.

Just Like a Traffic Light

The lights will require drivers to stop, just as regular intersection traffic lights mandate.

To run one of these signals will be regarded the same as running a traffic light at an intersection.

According to Harvey Smith of the California Highway Patrol's El Cajon office, the offense will collect for the driver a $10 bail and a date with the El Cajon Court.

Smith said the offense will be considered a moving violation and will give the driver one point on his records with the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The DMV allows drivers four points per year before their licenses are suspended.

Also, the court will assess no less than $10 for the first offense and more for subsequent offenses.

What is Hoped

Traffic engineer Stuart Harvey of CalTrans said the department hopes the new lights will "prevent the congestion of traffic on the freeway during morning peak hours."

"If we limit the number of cars coming on the freeway," Harvey reiterated, "we have aided the traffic flow."

"Traffic backs up," he continued, "when there are too many people trying to get on the freeway at the same time."

When asked what will happen if there are traffic logjams on the on-ramps, the engineer said CalTrans would then have to take "corrective action."

"We can't guarantee they (the new lights) will work," Harvey said, "Maybe some drivers will have to adjust their schedules or take alternate routes."

Local Beauties In Two Contests

Charlie Gunderson, 1977 Miss Lemon Grove, made the cut and has become a finalist to become a cheer leader—a Chargerette—with the San Diego Padres.

Final judgment will be held Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. at Cafe del Rey Moro, according to Tank Younger, ass't general manager of the Chargers.

Gunderson, a student, has also been chosen to participate in the 39th Annual Southern California contest to be held May 28 in Oceanside.

Judgment will be made on the basis of beauty, personality, poise and charm. Approximately 40 young ladies 17-25 will compete.

One of the requirements is that the contestant must be a "longtime" resident of her community.

Others who are among the 20 finalists in the Chargers competition are Nona Gaddy, a salesperson, Spring Valley, and Debra Herring, a secretary, of Lemon Grove.

4-Week Homes Needed For Spanish Students

A group of Spanish students from various areas of Spain will arrive in Lemon Grove July 28 for a 4-week visit.

The students, age 17-21, traveling with their teacher, will attempt to improve their English language skills and learn about American culture.

Classes will be held each morning at Mt. Miguel High school.

Teachers Jo Fritschel and Douglas Hartung have been retained by the Pacific American Institute, the sponsoring agency, to plan classes and instruct the students in language.

Learning about the American culture is achieved in a more practical fashion. "The best way to learn about the American family is to experience one," says Ferne McCuen, local coordinator for this summer's program.

She is currently engaged in the recruitment of families who would be interested in hosting one of the visitors during the 4-week stay, ending August 24.

Prospective host families should demonstrate warmth, love and a spirit of sharing. On the practical side, the ability to provide room and board, as well as transportation to and from Mt. Miguel High school without creating hardships should be a consideration.

Approximately 20 more families are needed in the program.

Interested families are asked to contact McCuen by phoning 264-3051 in the evening.

Center to Aid Youth of Area

The Lemon Grove branch of Youth for Progress, an organization dedicated to low-income minority youth, has received some of its funding from local sources and found support through Lemon Grove volunteers.

The Lemon Grove Center at 2445 Imperial ave. offers classes, sports recreation, counseling and tutoring. Classes are in carpentry, wood-making, cooking, sewing, needlepoint, and drama.

With recent funding facilities will be improved to include a boxing ring, a basketball court and a patio. Director of the center is Dotty Pettes. The number to call is 464-1711.

L.G. Man Attacked, Suspects Set Free

In an attack against a Lemon Grove man in Lemon Grove Park, six suspected individuals were detained but not taken into custody by sheriff's deputies.

Kenneth Nicholas was kicked in the head and beaten unconscious by a group of black males for an alleged racial slur, Nicholas' wife Cheri reported. She contended the slur was made by someone on the nearby basketball court in response to one of the black men's request to join the game.

Sheriff's deputy K. E. Gordon refused to take the suspects into custody, "due to the fact that the victim was not available for questioning and the emotional state of both groups involved."

THE FIRST PERFORMANCE for the Lemon Grove Players' production of "The Fireman's Flame" will open at 8 p.m. tomorrow night in Monterey Heights Community School Auditorium, 7550 Canton drive, Lemon Grove.

Appearing in the production will be (l-r) Dr. Robert Burns, Jo-Darlene Reardon, and Merrill Nelson.

Letters To The Editor

Assessment Notice Practice Deployed

Dear Editor:
What? No tax assessment notices until after the election June 6?

Why? Is the county assessor deliberately manipulating votes?

Is he afraid of 400,000 property owners knowing their assessment increases before they vote?

Is he afraid that knowledge of the increases will help pass Prop. 13?

Is he afraid it will detract votes from his own reelection? Four years ago (election year) the notices arrived after the June election. Since then they were mailed in April. But now, another election year — the notices have not been mailed and there is a planned delay. Think about these things!

Delayed property assessment notices deprive owners of their Constitutional right of due process provided in the 5th and 14th Amendments of the United States Constitution.

We strongly suggest that all owners call 236-3771 or go to the assessor's office and ask for their assessments. The computer gives last year's and this year's almost instantly.

Guidelines for Segregation

Detailed guidelines to help California schools eliminate racial segregation have been approved by the State Board of Education.

The guidelines, which stress the requirement of community participation, offer local school boards an opportunity to provide multicultural education and to integrate students, educators and parents of all ethnic groups into the life of a school.

Numerous methods are listed that have been used to reduce or eliminate segregation in school districts. The guidelines also suggest that local boards give prime consideration to the number and percentage of racial and ethnic groups in each school.

Copies of the guidelines may be obtained free by contacting Ples Griffin, Bureau of Intergroup Relations, California State Department of Education, 721 Capitol Mall, Sacramento, Ca. 95814, or by calling (916) 445-9482.

Premiere Showing of New Film Set for Sun. At Miguel Covenant

Teen Challenge of Southern California, Inc. will present the premiere showing of "The Jesus Factor" on Sunday, at Mt. Miguel Covenant Church, Kempton and Spring sts., Spring Valley.

The program will begin at 6 p.m.

The 45-minute documentary film is introduced by Charles Colson, convicted former advisor to President Richard M. Nixon and author of the best seller "Born Again."

The film tells the story of the National Opinion Research Center's study funded by the government's Health, Education & Welfare grant and directed by Dr. Catherine Hess, formerly Assistant Commissioner of Health in New York in charge of narcotic addiction.

'Man for All Seasons' Is New Theatre Fare

Lamb's Players' Theatre will celebrate its opening night with a performance of "A Man for All Seasons", Friday, 8 p.m. at 500 E. Plaza Blvd., National City.

Operating under the auspices of Lamb's Players, the nation's largest evangelical performing arts group, Lamb's Players' Theatre is a 138-seat theatre-in-the-round committed to producing professional-quality family entertainment.

"A Man for All Seasons" will run through June 10, followed by "The Matchmaker" on June 23. Tickets are $3.50 ($9 for the 1978 three-play series) and can be purchased by calling 474-4542.

Coleman College Sets 'May Mingle'

A reception will be held at Coleman College on Friday, May 19, at 4 p.m. for Business Education Instructors and Guidance Counselors of high schools throughout San Diego County. The "May Mingle" will introduce these professionals to each other and to career education opportunities at Coleman.

Located in historic Old San Diego, Coleman College is a leader in data processing education and has been training computer professionals since 1963. The Secretarial Department was added in 1968.

Meeting Set Today For Lady of Grace Council

Our Lady of Grace Council, Ladies of Columbus will hold a business meeting tonight at 7:45 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Lemon Grove.

The Hall is located on Washington street, next door to St. John of the Cross Church.

The film shows one to six percent success rate for government sponsored projects and compares it to the 70 percent success rate of Teen Challenge.

"The Jesus Factor" was filmed at the Teen Challenge Training Center in Rehersburg, Pennsylvania, and shows the methods and areas of activity that have brought about this phenomenal transformation in the lives of drug addicts.

Dr. Catherine Hess relates the results of the research, tells of her own skepticism of Teen Challenge until she reached the time in the study that showed what she called "startling results."

Jene C. Wilson, Director of Teen Challenge of Southern California said the film shows the success of the project.

"Before this research project, we kept records and we knew basically what our effectiveness had been in rehabilitation but there was much skepticism," he explained. "Now this report is documentation by an unbiased research committee which substantiates a 70% cure rate. It's no longer what we claim as a success rate. This is a positive cure for drug addiction."

Pastor Norman Crider invites the public to attend this free showing of the film.

Old Town Bazaar Has Music, Contest

A live broadcast of Big Band music and a baking competition are presented at the Bazaar del Mundo in Oldtown, San Diego.

This Week's RECIPE

Beef Steak Mediterranean

Beef blade steaks are an excellent and economical grill choice. Costing considerably less than loin cuts, these steaks from the beef chuck are somewhat less tender. But marinating the steaks provides opportunity to add a complementary flavor and has a tenderizing effect.

For a tasty example of just how good blade steaks can be, try Beef Steak Mediterranean. The spicy marinade, sweetened with orange marmalade, gives that good beef flavor a delicious accent.

Beef Steaks Mediterranean
2 beef blade steaks, cut
1/2 to 3/4 inch thick
1/2 cup lemon juice
3 tablespoons orange marmalade
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
3/4 teaspoon oregano
3/4 teaspoon hot sauce

Combine lemon juice, orange marmalade, oil, salt, oregano and hot sauce in saucepan. Bring to boil, reduce heat and cook slowly 5 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool. Place steaks in a flat pan or plastic bag. Pour marinade over steaks, turning to coat all sides. Marinate in refrigerator 4 hours or overnight. Place steaks on grill or rack in broiler pan 4 to 5 inches from heat. Broil at moderate temperature for 7 to 10 minutes on each side, depending upon degree of doneness desired (rare or medium). Brush with marinade before and after turning. 4 to 6 servings.

Program Planned For Alcoholism In S.D. Industry

The Assn. of Labor-Management Administrators and Consultants on Alcoholism (ALMACA) has announced the establishment of it's San Diego Chapter.

ALMACA is the national, professional association of individuals employed in, or interested in the field of Occupational Alcoholism. As such, it represents the interests of both labor and management in developing, implementing, and operating effective alcoholism programs to assist employees who suffer the tragic consequences of this disease.

Dan Smith of General Dynamics, local chapter president, points out the benefits to employers and employee organizations realistically examining the financial and human costs of alcoholism. Starting with the premise that employees are people and one out of ten people who drink become alcoholic, the seriousness of the situation soon becomes apparent.

"From management's viewpoint, alcoholism is a very costly hangover", said Smith. Nationally, the annual cost to employers is estimated to be $5-billion due to absenteeism alone. From labor's viewpoint, alcoholism as it affects the employee is responsible for the loss of more jobs and the source of more grievances concerning job performance than virtually any problem.

Taken in its full perspective, said Smith, to ignore the consequences of alcoholism in the industrial environment is unrealistic. "It's time employers and labor unions in this County strike back at a disease that severely affects 5-10% of any workforce. No company or union is immune. Management and labor have the capacity to exert a tremendously powerful positive influence on alcoholic employees by assisting them to recover from a disease that is so often denied, feared, and misunderstood."

Regardless of the personal viewpoint our members may have, "our Chapter's objective is to work with any local industry or labor organization to understand, develop, and implement effective Occupational Alcoholism Programs."

Several such programs already exist locally but as yet, the majority of employees within San Diego County do not have such a program at their disposal. "We stand willing to work with all interested parties in this regard."

Couple Win Sculpture

The Women's Assn. of the Salk Institute announced that Abraham and Ann Ratner are the recipients of a special recognition award, a limited edition Burgues sculpture valued at over $500.

The special award is being given by WASI to the Ratners in recognition of their support of the Salk Institute and its research over many years.

WASI was formed in the early 1960's by a group of dedicated women for the purpose of promoting a better understanding of the Institute and its works, and to raise funds for work currently underway there.

In town for a special lecture and slide program of which the presentation was a part was Dr. Irving Carl Burgues, internationally-known porcelain sculptor and the creator of the piece awarded to the Ratners.

Although Dr. Burgues presented his sculpture "Golden Crowned Kinglet" to WASI special advisor Jackie Howe who was accepting for the Ratners, the donation actually came from George and Guddie Wixen who own Guddie's La Jolla, the Gallery where the program took place.

Pirates Test Padres In Week-end Series

The San Diego Padres will close out their first homestand of the young 1978 National League campaign against opposition from the Eastern Division with 3 meetings each against the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals.

The Padres, who first must conclude a three-game series with the Chicago Cubs this afternoon, will test the Pirates Friday through Sunday in 3 single outings. Game time will be 7 p.m. for the first two contests and then 1 p.m. for the Sunday finale.

Then, it will be the St. Louis Cardinals coming to town to close out the homestand. The Padres and Cards will tangle Monday through Wednesday May 15-17 with starting times on these set for 7 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday and then 1 p.m. for the getaway game on Wednesday.

The meetings with the Bucs and Cardinals will actually be return engagements as the Padres had met both clubs earlier in May on the road. The closeout contest with the Cubs on Thursday, May 11 marked the first meetings of the year between the two clubs with the Padres not visiting the Windy City for the first of two trips until June 9-11.

"This homestand against the three Eastern clubs is actually the beginning of quite a block of home games for us," first-year manager Roger Craig said. "Looking at the overall schedule, we will have a string of 34 of 50 games at home running from early May through the end of June."

"This will give us a great opportunity to take advantage of the so-called 'home field' advantage and get a good jump on the rest of the season, especially since we will be on the road a lot in the second half of the year."

The six encounters with the Pirates and Cardinals will bring to a close, but only briefly, a run of games against the Eastern Division. Following the homestand the Padres will return to action against the Western Division as the next 13 games will be versus the Cincinnati Reds and Los Angeles Dodgers in the home-and-home series.

Then, it will be a return to play against the East as the next 17 after the Reds and Dodgers will be against New York, Montreal, Philadelphia and Chicago to complete action versus all six Eastern Clubs.

Padre Notes

The 1978 accounting of Padre season tickets is 13,670 and establishes a club record. The former high mark was last year when 7,261 was reached.

For the record: 1971 — 1,515; 1972 — 2,607; 1973 — 3,229; 1974 — 4,359; 1975 — 4,328; 1976 — 4,839 and 1977 — 7,261.

ABC Monday Night Game of the Week will be the May 22 Los Angeles Dodgers- Padres game in the S.D. Stadium.

To satisfy national television, starting time will be earlier. The first pitch will be at 5:40 p.m. instead of the conventional starting time of 7 p.m.

2 Chances Left To See 'Champs'

What makes a champion tick? An assemblage of Olympic medalists, top racing purse winners and All-American athletes will investigate that question in the course of the remaining two Wednesday evening seminars in May.

The public is invited along with seasoned sportscasters, writers and editors to question the champions at these free community service seminars scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Community Room at Wickes Furniture in El Cajon on May 17 and 24.

Three generations of horse racing will be present on May 17 when tales of the turf will be traded by 23-year-old Darrel McHargue, currently leading jockey of the United States, Ken Church, winner of nearly 2,000 races for purses totalling $9.3 million in 20 years, and 70-year-old Johnny Longden, who retired to become a trainer after 40 years as the world's winningest rider. Track announcer Ernie Myers of KOGO will moderate.

On May 24th, Aztec coaches, players and team physician will explain how it is in college sports. On hand for the discussion and audience questions will be winning football and basketball coaches Claude Gilbert and Tim Vezie, star quarterback Mark Halda and impressive basketball center Steve Malovic, and Dr. George Brown, Jr., a former All-American himself and doctor for the Aztec teams. Ron Reina of KFM and Voice of the Aztecs, will moderate.

Due to limited seating for the free seminars, reservations should be requested at 447-2492. Community Room is located just off Interstate 8 in El Cajon.

2 Main Events Stopped by KO's On Boxing Card

Two 8-round headliners ended in knockouts Friday night at the S.D. Coliseum on its Cinco de Mayo professional boxing card.

Mickey Weigel, 155, of Pasadena had less trouble than he anticipated with his heavier opponent—Steve Bentley, 162, of Long Beach. Bentley not only had a 6-lb. advantage but he was fully a head taller with a comparable reach. But Bentley couldn't answer the bell for the 6th round and Weigel won his 9th fight. He has lost one and fought another to a draw.

The other 8-rounder ended at 2:31 of the 3rd when Jim Ingram, a Long Beach lightweight had Hector Torres of Sonora incapable of defending himself as Torres covered his face with his arms in his corner.

In the 5-rounder, Micah True of Pacific Beach (The Surfer) took a close decision from Hector Fernandez of Tijuana. True confided that he took the name of Micah True because it means "Gypsy Cowboy" but he didn't know what language it stems from. He formerly fought, but not very well, under the name of Mike Hickman.

Clinton Campbell, 137, of Riverside, won a split decision over Gary Pittman, 135, of Los Angeles. Although Campbell was 2-lbs. heavier than his opponent, Pittman was a foot taller and his reach was far greater than the winner's. It was a good fight to watch in spite of the height-weight difference.

Ringside officials were Fritz Werner, Frank Rustich and Bobby Valdez.

Joey Olmos, the California Athletic Commission representative in San Diego and other parts of S. California, said Friday that he was not interested in the post of executive director, a seat made available after the Commission fired Bob Turley earlier this year.

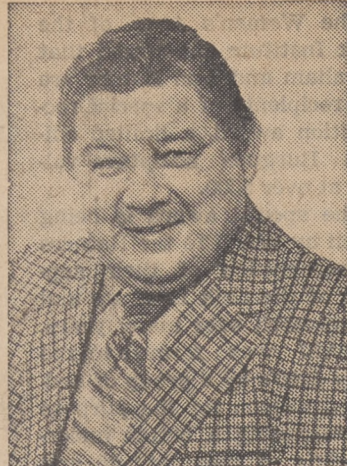

SD&E Stock Up 25%

San Diego Gas and Electric stock turned up with a quarterly yield of 61 cents per share of common stock, 25 percent more than during the first quarter of 1977.

The profits were attributed to the general rate increase of July 1977.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

It somehow seems fitting that Sunday should be Mother's Day and that most of us "good ol' guys" have to take time off this afternoon and do a little shopping for the good ladies in our lives.

It's just a coincidence that Ray Kroc's battling Padres are playing a rare day game today (Thursday) and that some of the Mother's Day shopping is taking place at the ol' ball yard.

And why not. Mothers and wives love baseball, too. They get their enjoyments, as do the rest of us, out in the fresh air, yellin' and screamin' and kickin' up a fuss.

Maybe back in the old days, Ladies didn't pay much attention to the goings on fillin' up the sports pages. But that ain't the way things are now-a-days. Not only are the ladies readin' the sports pages, but some of 'em are even writin' the same lies and tall stories as do the rest of us humble sports folk.

Women-kind worked very hard at becoming knowledgeable about subjects men used to think was their sacred province.

You knew the barriers were doomed when the ladies invaded the Men's Bar at the Biltmore. The Press Box, that last bastion of male dominance, was sure to follow.

There is some talk that Little League Baseball was developed to be a suitable training ground for the education of young mothers into the ways of baseball.

They held secret meetings to learn how to boo the umpires, challenge the opposing manager on little known points of baseball lore and yell to their utmost every time one of their younguns do anything that could be classified as "all-right."

Wise heads shook their beards and told each other how it was just a matter of time until all those mothers got enough "smarts" about the game, and when they did we'd see little girls playing Little League baseball.

Of course, everybody knew that would never be. Girls can't play baseball. They can't hit. Or throw. Or run the bases. Everybody knows that.

But somehow, no one told the girls they couldn't play well enough to go up against regular competition, and if they did tell them, the little girls ignored them. 'Cause they're playing now.

And whether you like it or not, it's probably just a matter of time until one of the cute little girls playing Little League Baseball these days plays on through high school, college and into the professional ranks.

You may not like it. Baseball may not like it. But sure as shootin', the ladies are gonna get there. A future "Punch and Judy" hitter may very well be named Judy.

The thing is, they might not even present any problems baseball doesn't have, already. I mean, if you sign a female catcher and she decides she doesn't like the dirt and refuses to play anywhere except first base, that's not new. It's happened before.

Of course, some things will change. The Dodgers' Tom Lasorda will have to quit huggin' his players every time they get an important hit or score a run. Or he'll answer to Mrs. Lasorda.

Anyway, it seems fitting and proper to drop by the Padres' ball park today to pick up tickets for Mother's Day. You can enjoy the Business (person's) Special and ensure your Mother's Day celebration will be a family affair. And on Sunday, buy the dear lady a hotdog so she won't have to cook dinner. Some Moms even drink beer these days. And have fun.

Father vs. Son Sparks Cajon Speedway Races

Father and son racing antagonists have dominated the Cajon Speedway during the three weeks of the new racing season.

And both will be seeking top honors Saturday night when the super stocks return to the Gillespie Field facility.

Father George Esau of San Diego, won three weeks ago and then captured last week's 40-lapper, both times edging out son Ron from Lakeside by a single car length. The younger Esau sandwiched his win between those of his father when he outlasted Mike Hagerman of El Cajon, two weeks ago.

All three races have been decided by a single car length. And with the total purses for the first three races of the season reaching $15,319, the battle for the win this Saturday night should be equally as fierce as the others.

The action Saturday night calls for two trophy dashes to kick things off at 8 p.m. The dashes will be followed by four 8-lap heat races, a 10-lap consolation, a 10-lap limited stock event, the 20-lap B main, and the big 40-lap main event.

Only the top 20 qualifiers are guaranteed starting positions in the finale with two additional starters coming out of the B Main.

This is the 14th season of competition for the elder Esau while son Ron is only in his sixth season, but both appear on their way to their best seasons ever. However, neither is taking the rest of the 50 drivers at the Gillespie Field track lightly and expect another hard run Saturday night.

Nastase Regains 'Nasty' Form Brings It to Arena Tonight

Since last seen, Ilie Nastase has regained his old form. He verbally accosted an official in St. Louis, struck and nearly decked a player in Los Angeles and acquired three penalty points in Phoenix.

With this type of momentum, Ilie is capable of much commotion when he leads the Strings — and Chris Evert — on the Sports Arena Court against the Friars tonight at 7:30.

And on Saturday, the Friars see Phoenix for the first time and their fans will be eyeing pizza. Should the Friars defeat the Racquets, all those in attendance will receive a free pizza compliments of Square Pan Pizza.

The Friars should be able to deliver, although certain problems must be negotiated. One is the Racquets' Sue Barker, a formidable singles player, and the other is Butch

Sprint Cars in Spotlight Saturday at South Bay Track

They'll be sprucing up the half-mile dirt oval at South Bay Park's Speedway 117 for Saturday night's return of the spectacular broadsliding sprint cars of the California Racing Assn.

It will mark the first appearance at the track for the swift, dirt-spraying racers since April, 1976. Because of the popularity, bookings have been difficult but promote Don Basile has scheduled them for four appearances this season.

Gates open at 6 p.m., trials are slated to get underway at 7 and the trophy dash will be run at 8 p.m. The program will consist of a dash, four heats, a 12-lap semi-main and a 30-lap feature.

Defending champion Jimmy Oskie of Downey, who again is battling Dean Thompson of Redondo Beach, Mike Shaw of Northridge and Arizona's Lealand McSpadden for the title, figures to be the one to beat on this track. In fact, Oskie won the last feature conducted on Speedway 117.

However, this season Oskie is still searching for his first triumph. McSpadden has won 3 features, two at Gardena's Ascot Park and another at Phoenix's Manzanita Park.

With more than 30 cars anticipated to be in the field, track records could take a beating. The 30-lap mark of 11 minutes, 47.50 seconds was set by Bob East 3 years ago. He also holds the single-lap record of :22.337 seconds.

Included in the field will be El Cajon's Billy Allen, currently in the top 15 in the CRA standings.

NEWEST SOCCER — Mark Demling, a 26-year old American, has been purchased by the San Diego Sockers. A right-side defender, Demling was acquired from the Sockers American Soccer League division rivals, the San Jose Earthquakes. Demling played on 3 NCAA championship teams with St. Louis U. and was drafted by Earthquakes as their first choice ever. He has a reputation for being tough, aggressive.

Boat Safety Is New Course

"Adventure Afloat," a boating safety program for high schools that combines classroom instruction and on-the-water training, will start with a first course tomorrow, 10 a.m., at the Mission Bay Aquatic Center.

The program is developed by the State Department of Navigation and Ocean Development and is to be expanded statewide to colleges and universities.

PRIZE FIGHTER — Ronnie Wilson, a light heavyweight scrapper, is one of San Diego's most popular boxers. A former Canadian, who came to San Diego 6 years ago, he carries a record of 75 wins, 23 losses and 5 draws. He married a S.D. girl and with their two children they live in El Cajon. In 1975 he was rated 7th among all light-heavyweights. He is manager of the B.F. Goodrich Service Center in the 7200 block of Broadway. He is scheduled to fight at the S.D. Coliseum next month against an opponent yet to be named. The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts. in downtown S.D.

Card Tuesday Features Six 'Mad' Wrestlers

There'll be six bouts of professional wrestling Tuesday night at the S.D. Coliseum instead of the customary five.

Anger is the cause for the extra production.

For example, Black Gordman, a former teammate of the Great Goliath in tag team matches, is mad at the giant. He won't even shake hands with him, anymore. They will vent their spleen on one another in a mad match.

The pretty Japanese girl wrestlers also had a falling out. Ukie Bara and Tami Auyoma were doing well as a female tag team in Southern California until last week. Now they become angry contestants in their bout.

That isn't all of the oddities. Outlaw Ron Bass and K. O. Perez will be tied together with a 6-ft. bull rope. Neither can escape the onslaught of the other. Then there's a revenge match. Roddy Piper is mad at Chavo Guerrero and all fans know how mad Roddy can get — almost spittin' mad! And yet another. In a Mexican death match, Moondog Mayne takes on Terry Sawyer. Neither is Mexican. In this one there is no disqualification, referee or time limit. It goes until one is finished off. Then there's a conventional match. Hector Guerrero wrestles Little David. All of this starts at 7:30 p.m. The Coliseum is at 15th and E streets in downtown San Diego.

CROWNED MISS LEMON GROVE April 22, Kathy Stenbeck visits E. R. Stong Building Materials Company, 6636 Federal Blvd. and welcomes Tom Horner, Vice President, to the Lemon Grove business community. "Right now we are supplying materials for construction of Cuyamaca College which will be opening this fall," Horner said. "While that is an extremely big job, we are not so busy that we can't take care of smaller contractors and individual purchasers," he added.

Ed Davis, as Governor, Would Solicit Reagan Aid

"When I am elected Governor of California in November, I will immediately ask former Governor Ronald Reagan to head a statewide committee of top business and labor leaders dedicated to bringing back new business and new jobs to California."

This was the statement of Ed Davis, leading Republican candidate for Governor, speaking to the California Employment Assn. on "The Employment Climate in California" at the Disneyland Hotel, recently. "The past four years of business and economic Brownouts in our State have temporarily withered the business and economic health that was so carefully built under past administrations, including that of the present Governor's father. With help from former Governor Reagan and the men and women of both labor and management who think as he and I do, we can make our business climate flourish again."

Davis emphasized that the advisory committee he would like Reagan to head would be composed of expert private citizens — "not people on the government dole."

"We must show the world California is not a mystical retreat where no activity is allowed. California must regain her position as the most favorable place to live and make a living. Business must not feel it is frozen out by an anti-growth, anti-job, anti-progress administration in Sacramento."

Audience-Pleasing Play Offers Spice and Laughs

By Susanne Williams

That there is not always a way when there is a will is a lesson a newly married British couple learns the hard way in Coronado Playhouse's production of "No Sex, Please, We Are British" by Anthony Marriott and Alistair Foot.

Frances and Peter Hunter's problem is one of great entanglements resulting from the simultaneous arrival of pornographic material and Peter's mother. The x-rated shipment, mind you, was an innocent mistake; but to return it to its sender under the eagle eyes of Mrs. Hunter, Sr. becomes a close to impossible task.

Matters do not improve with Brian, Peter's colleague, whose flurries of activity make up in eagerness what they lack in common sense. Peter's and Brian's boss, a police superintendent, a bank inspector and two x-rated shipments of the female gender complete this impossible situation.

The play has all the makings of a perfect comedy, and the fact that, under William C. Bruce's direction, it comes across as less than a perfect one is somewhat regrettable, but no disaster.

It is still a comedy and one, for that matter, that oscillates between wholesome and risqué entertainment. Its wholesomeness stems from the more well-meant than well-done performance of the actors which, coupled with the spiciness of the dialogue, gave it enough momentum to keep the audience gurgling with delight.

Jeanne Davis as Peter's mother and her whimsical cackles are the saving grace of the play, closely followed by Steven McCarthy as Brian. McCarthy's dilemma-torn expressions were everything but subtle; yet, in spite — or because of it produced a number of hearty laughs.

Pamela Adams and David Flint as the newly-wed Hunters barely managed to instill life into the less colorful roles of the newly-wed Hunters. Arnie Miller was sufficiently convincing as bank inspector Needham, at least during the first half of his appearance. Jack Pritchard as Leslie Bromhead sported an oversized moustache and a medium-sized performance.

Don Wyand cast as a clod rather than the snoop, bigoted police inspector he was supposed to be, while Loretta Santos and Robin Robinson revealed varying amounts of fresh and acting strength.

William Bruce's seven-door set design nicely mirrored and allowed for the play's confusion. Costumes by Mari Thompson varied from the boldly bare to the fetchingly funny. A special praise for Brian's proper, but ill-fitting suit which nicely epitomized Brian's character.

"No Sex Please, We Are British," which opened Friday, will run at the Coronado Playhouse weekends through May.

Vital Signs Class

Shughrue, Tschogl Named Delegates For Boys' State

Thomas P. Shughrue, a Spring Valley student at Mt. Miguel High school has been chosen as one of 6 high school juniors to attend the 41st annual session of Boys' State in Sacramento June 17-24.

Also chosen was Don E. Tschogl, a Monte Vista student. All of the six are from Crossmont High school district schools.

The will attend an American Legion dinner in San Diego May 15 where they will be indoctrinated for the coming trip, according to J. E. Duffy, Boys' State Chairman of Post 282.

Boys' State delegates are chosen by American Legion Post 282, San Diego. Counselors from each school makes the recommendations. 950 outstanding youths from all sections of California will attend this year.

The project gives the top representatives of their high schools an understanding of the structure and working of their government.

On arrival 35-40 boys is assigned to a "city" and he is assigned a political party as he registers.

Kennedy Defends Bar Assn. Rating

Assistant Dist. Atty. William H. (Bill) Kennedy, a Superior Court Judge candidate, criticized candidates who have attacked the San Diego County Bar Assn.'s rating of judicial candidates.

Kennedy, 47, is one of four candidates seeking election in a non-partisan, countywide race to fill a vacancy in Dept. 7 of the Superior Court.

At least three candidates have been critical of the system of ranking judicial candidates with "qualified," "well-qualified," or "unqualified" ratings. One candidate has gone so far as to take the matter to Superior Court, unsuccessfully seeking a temporary restraining order, but still delaying the public announcement of the ratings by the Bar Assn.

"They walked into their races with their eyes wide open, or at least we presume they did," Kennedy said. "And they knew that the Bar was going to be interviewing them and giving them a rating."

"How is it," Kennedy asked, "that they waited until after they received their preliminary rating to make such a fuss about the matter?"

Kennedy defended the concept of the Bar system, stating that such a system of inquiry into the professional and personal backgrounds of the candidates had merit and precedence.

Ask Your C.H.P.

C.H.P. Capt. C. M. Douglas

Last week, Captain Douglas discussed the situations where a motorist could pass another vehicle on the right.

If you have a question, no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It could save you a citation or it could even save your life.

Address your questions in care of this newspaper and please allow at least three weeks for your answer to appear.

This Week's Question:

I have received three traffic citations in the past two years. How many citations are permitted before I can lose my license?

Answer:

One point is given to any traffic conviction involving the safe operation of a motor vehicle upon a highway. Any accident in which the driver is deemed by the Department of Motor Vehicles to be responsible shall be given the value of one point.

Two points are given for conviction of:

—failing to stop at the scene of an accident (hit and run),
—driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs,
—and reckless driving.

A count of four or more points in twelve months, six or more points in a 24 month period or eight or more points in a 36 month period gives the driver a negligent operator classification which may be grounds for suspension.

If the driver operates a motor vehicle in excess of 25,000 miles annually, the point system allows two additional points.

ConVis Says 'No' To Proposition 13

Proposition 13, better known as the Jarvis-Gann initiative, has been unanimously rejected by the Executive Committee of the San Diego Convention and Visitors Bureau.

The committee, although in favor of tax relief, felt that passage of the initiative would be "disruptive to the economy of the state and result in a loss of business."

"Potential layoff of employees could result in a lower level of service provided to the convention attendees and tourists," the committee's report stated.

Baja Orphanage Gets Area Help

By Linda Smith

An area church has "adopted" an orphanage about 20 miles north of Ensenada, Baja California, it was related this week.

The orphanage, which cares for more than 30 waifs 1-16 years of age, is operated by Ramon who with his wife provides care. He has no last name.

Some 30 years ago the Mexican government brought about 100 people, some of Russian descent from nearby towns and villages. They were told they were going to build a town for them. But nothing happened. So they lived in trees until they made bricks and cut wood to make their own homes.

Many of them died or abandoned their children two of which were of Ramon and his wife to be. Eventually they opened their home for children. A missionary built a church and helped construct their homes. Many children are being brought there from nearby towns and villages.

Last trip, ice cubes attracted the interest of the youngsters. Most have never seen an ice cube before. They drank the Kool-ade with its floating ice cubes gleefully.

The orphanage's greatest need is food such as flour, rice, sugar, beans, and canned goods. They need 300 tortillas a day and use 300 lbs. of beans every two weeks.

Those who would like to help contact Pastor Mike Cross of the El Nopal Full Gospel Tabernacle located at 605 El Cajon Blvd. at 287-6717.

Traffic Deaths Drop

Traffic deaths in California during April broke the upward trend of fatalities which prevailed during the first three months of the year.

A total of 379 traffic deaths in April brings the number of fatalities for the first four months of 1978 to 1469, an 7.78 increase over the 1977 4-month total of 1363.

The statistics, reported by a Highway Patrol Commissioner, showed an increase in unincorporated areas and a decrease in incorporated areas.
